English Fluency with Nelly

Your First Two Weeks — At a Glance

ZERO TO 100 EDUCATION · A SPEAKING PROGRAM, NOT A WATCHING PROGRAM

Fluency is built in five minutes a day. Every weekday you record one short voice note and receive coached feedback on your own voice; every day you read one page of The Compound Effect; every weekend we meet for a recorded call. Before Week 1, a short onboarding records your baseline — the recording your whole journey will be measured against.

WEEK 1 — Your Day in English

The foundation week · sets your baselines

Goal: learn to tell your own life in English — one moment at a time.

- Daily voice note (Mon–Fri, 5 min max): pick one specific moment from your day — who was there, what happened, what was said, how it felt. One moment in depth, not a list of your schedule.
- Listen back to your own note at 1.5x–2x speed — hear what your coach hears.
- Coach feedback on every note: one pattern named, one technique to practise, what's already working.
- Weekend call: teach back your book pages; retell the week's hardest moment.
- This week measures your starting point: consistency, grammar, vocabulary, flow.

Week complete when: 5 voice notes + 1 weekend call.

WEEK 2 — Teach It Back

TED talks · borrowed ideas, your own words

Goal: take in big ideas — and make them yours by teaching them.

- Daily: watch the day's TED talk, then teach it back in a voice note: what it said, what you understood, what you questioned, what didn't make sense.
- Your sentences, not theirs: notes are for preparing — never read aloud in your recording.
- Delivery coaching joins the feedback: pause silently instead of filling, project your voice, listen with no notes and record with no notes.
- Weekend call: perform one teach-back live and take questions on it.
- The book continues: one page a day, every day.

Week complete when: 5 teach-backs + live teach-back on the call.

EVERY DAY, BOTH WEEKS

Send by midnight — a note landing by 1:00 AM still counts for the day.

One page of The Compound Effect — audio + print if you can.

Five minutes. That's the whole daily ask. Show up daily and it compounds.

YOU BRING

Five minutes and one page a day, every weekday. A missed voice note costs a $10 penalty — the coach may excuse real circumstances; that discretion is his, and it's logged.

YOU RECEIVE

Coached feedback on every note, a weekly recorded call, and a program that runs in 4-week cycles with a review month — measured against your own baseline, inside an up-to-18-month fluency arc.

Start free: send a 5-minute voice note on WhatsApp — +1 (774) 434-4547 — and book your intro chat. Full syllabus available on request.

Weeks 3–4 complete the cycle (Read & Report · Real-World Media), followed by a Review Month that re-works your Week 1 recordings and delivers your first progress report. 1:1 and small-pod formats run this same curriculum.
